DEDICATION

Learning does not solely depend upon the knowledge one receives from textbooks, but it develops through an expansion of the self—for the self can only expand through an involvement with life. An involvement for which we seek the guidance and assistance of others. One such individual who is involved with life, and the lives of students, is Mr. James B. Steffy. For his intense involvement with Susquehanna we dedicate this 1971 Lanthorn to him.

Mr. Steffy received his masters in music education from Pennsylvania State University and has taught at Susquehanna since 1959. He has risen to the position of associate professor and head of the music department. Mr. Steffy's involvement in campus life includes being director of the Symphonic Band, the Marching Brass and Percussion, and the Brass Ensemble. He was also instrumental in the winning of a first place award in Kerkrade by the Symphonic Band. He is also director of the new Camp de Musique International for high school students.

In dedicating the 1971 Lanthorn, we wish to acknowledge the time and effort which Mr. Steffy has contributed to Susquehanna.

“Scarcely three years have passed since our institution made its advent into the college world under the advanced name of Susquehanna University . . .

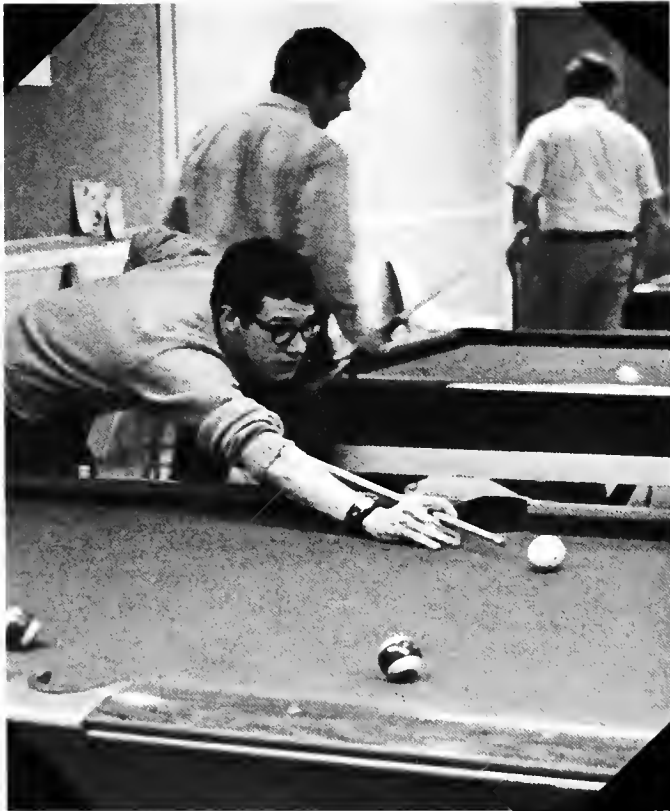

PRINTED BY MT HOLLY PRINTING COMPANY, MT HOLLY, SPRINGFIELD, PA.

Early in the beginning of the present school year, the duty of publishing a 'College Annual' forced itself upon our attention . . ."

“However we selected a name and bravely set to work, determined to snatch odd moments from play and comfort (never from school work) to accomplish our purpose . . .”

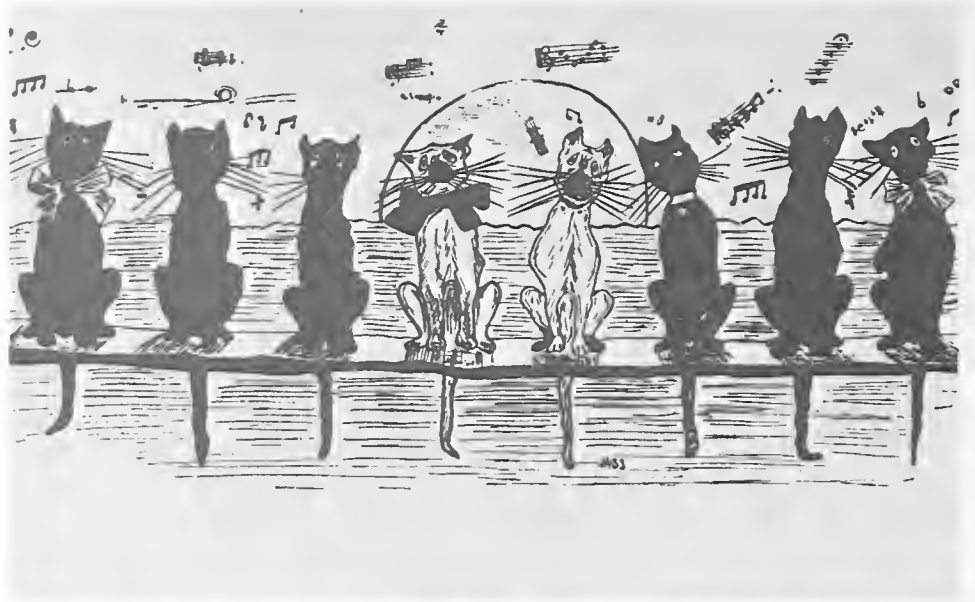

Thus the 1897 editors introduced the first Lanthorn. Many changes have occurred since that first issue. For example, we no longer possess a Prohibition Club nor the Anti-Marriage Society.
The tennis team is not termed "The Bong Tongs," while "The McKinley and Hobart Club" has been renamed "The Young Republicans." The campus and classes have grown, along with the number of coeds admitted. Today, The Lanthorn is dated for the Senior Class, rather than the Junior Class.

Yet we still have the College Orchestra and Chapel Choir. With the recent addition of bicycles to the Campus Center, The Susquehanna Cyclers (or Wheelman's Club) may possibly awaken once more. Our colors are still orange and maroon.

At any rate, as the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Staff, we hope to make this a memorable issue. Hopefully we will enrich the readers with an appreciation for the early history of Susquehanna and its yearbook.

As the first editors wrote, "We have established a precedent, let other classes follow. We challenge our fellow-students, the Sophomores, to rent the sanctum vacated by the staff of '98, and beat us if they can. We want to be surpassed. We shall always be proud of any success that may attend Susquehanna and THE LANTHORN . . .

... If we succeed in gaining one good friend for Susquehanna, our labor will not have been in vain."

To Members of the Susquehanna University Community:

Spanish philosopher George Santayana cautioned that “those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it.” I write today in the spirit of acknowledging our shortcomings and learning from our past about a matter of history that is deeply troubling.

As we prepared for homecoming and alumni reunions two weeks ago, a group of students perusing old yearbooks in the library came across a deeply disturbing photo in the 1971 Lanthorn. This yearbook contained a number of photographs in which members of Greek organizations posed in costumes and settings that represented different historical themes including women earning the right to vote and the institution’s roots as the Missionary Institute. But one extraordinarily offensive picture portrayed the lynching of an African-American student by other students dressed as hooded klansmen.

Over the past decade, the History department has used archival records from this era as teaching tools. While the historical record around this photo is thin, Professor Cymone Fourshey’s students’ research suggests to her that the fraternity involved, of which the African-American student was a member, was trying to convey its grievances with the administration by expressing that this was how it was being treated.

Regardless of the interpretation or intent, the appropriation of such an image trivializes the terrible reality of some of the most horrifying acts in American history. It is a sickening and despicable image to me. But as a white person, I want to acknowledge also that it is not possible for me to fully understand the impact that this photo has on others, especially African-Americans. I deeply regret the pain that this image is causing for members of the community today and those it undoubtedly hurt in the past.

Last May, Susquehanna’s Board of Trustees adopted a “Statement on Diversity and Inclusiveness” that outlines a set of beliefs and behaviors to which we are committed as a community.

Our commitment to affirming and protecting “the rights and dignity of all persons” demands that we also acknowledge the inappropriateness of this image and the pain that it has caused. This image exists as a sad reminder of the ways in which individuals, institutions, and societies are capable of gross insensitivity.

Thirty-six years after the fact, it is easy to be critical of that moment in our institutional history. But let us not compound this sad reality by assuming that we are without blind spots ourselves or that our own behaviors and beliefs are beyond reproach.

Our Statement on Diversity and Inclusiveness calls on us “to be vigilant to ensure that we do not exclude or marginalize individuals and groups” because of their differences. This means that we must have the courage to listen respectfully to the concerns and criticisms of others, to thoughtfully examine our own actions, and to confront the insensitivities and injustices in our midst.

We must do this because what diminishes any member of our community diminishes us all. I hope that you will join me in recommitting ourselves to learning from our past so that we can build an even better future for all members of the Susquehanna community. This learning requires us all to seek to understand the injury and concerns of others, to examine our own blind spots, and to recognize that reconciliation can only be accomplished through conscious acts.

I encourage all members of the University community to be willing to engage in conversations, large and small, about the difficult realities that are a part of our history and culture in the United States and also here at Susquehanna. This event reinforces the importance and value of the work being done by the faculty to address issues of diversity, inclusiveness and cross-cultural competence in the curriculum and for the need to expand our educational programs and training for all personnel. I am also requesting that a copy of this correspondence be added to institutionally-owned copies of the 1971 Lantern as I think it is appropriate that some contemporary comment be connected to this historic artifact.

Dear Members of the Susquehanna University Community,

In 2004, Tau Kappa Epsilon was re-founded on Susquehanna University's campus as the newest addition to the Greek Life system. The re-founding members selected "TKE" as their national organization because they wanted to build a fraternity that wasn't your, "typical" fraternity. They liked the values that the founders of TKE, back in 1899, put forth and felt that every one of Susquehanna's TKE members should embody these values to the fullest.

Upon hearing of the 1971 yearbook photo depicting past TKE members dressed as members of the Ku Klux Klan and lynching an African American man, we were absolutely appalled. Previously unaware of any photo like this existing, a group of us went to the library to see the picture for ourselves.

While we can't begin to understand the pain that this picture must cause for many, we are willing to do whatever it takes to assist in minimizing the damage that has already occurred.

Although we realize there is nothing we can do about the picture, seeing as it was taken before any of our current members were born, we understand the need for a response. As a response to this picture, we will be posting a copy of this letter with President Lemons' letter in all 1971 yearbooks on campus. We also will be reading this letter in SGA, Pan-Hellenic Council, and Inter-Fraternity Council, as well as posting a copy of it on our website (www.TKESu.net).

As a chapter, we would like to thank the University for its response to this issue. We would again, like to extend our deepest sorrow and grief to everyone who were affected by this picture.

FOOTBALL

Susquehanna's football team had its best season since 1964, winning the divisional championship for the first time since 1962. A special event was the victory over Georgetown in Atlantic City.

Unfortunately the team of 1896 did not have a good year. In fact they were unable to conquer Williamsport High School. One fact holds true for both teams, though. "Their conduct and pluck throughout the season was commendable."

Notable players included Joe Palchak, chosen the team's most valuable player and the most valuable player of the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. He was named to the first team of the Associated Press All-Pennsylvania Team which includes all colleges in the state. Palchak was also named to the All-Lutheran Squad and the ECAC Division's first team.

John Strawoet received the coach's awards for being the best lineman and most aggressive player.

Robert Weis

Gustave W. Weber, President

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Graduating Class:

The society into which you now graduate is not as free as the one which produced the principles by which you have been educated. Bit by bit we have exchanged our freedom—voluntarily, for the most part, involuntarily to some extent—for security, for productive efficiency, for creature comforts. But far from discounting the value of those educational principles, this puts them at a premium. Again and again, in all kinds of occupations, individuals educated in accordance with those principles continue to prove their effectiveness in our society, even in the inner-most sanctums and strongholds of organizations. Civilization can lose just so much of its freedom without losing all of it. The presence of individuals educated in these principles, who cleave to them and live according to them, is sorely needed to prevent such a catastrophe, to hold the balance between freedom and organization, to insure the continuity of the creative process without which organization is futile.

My word to you, then, is plain, and my charge is simple. To do good you must first know good; to serve beauty you must first know beauty; to speak the truth you must first know the truth. You must know these things yourselves, be able to recognize them by yourselves, be able to describe, explain, and communicate them by yourselves, and wish to do so, when no one else is present to prompt you or to bargain with you. This knowledge has been the purpose of your education. Hold true to the purpose. No price, no mess of pottage, can equal its value to your country and yourselves.

In this 75th edition of the Lanthorn the editors have attempted to relate the past with the present and thereby show the ties that bind them. In this age the values held long ago are still very evident; those of striving for wisdom and maturity in the academic and social worlds. Susquehanna has come a long way from its small beginnings. Yet there is a road that stretches ahead of her and that road leads to the future. We, the students of Susquehanna, are privileged to have a very large part in the molding of the University and its future. But in accepting this responsibility we must strive and reach and attain . . . we must place our ambitions before us . . . but not beyond our reach if we look beyond ourself.

In the first yearbook's "Chronicles" of Sept. 21 "there was a game of baseball with town team. Score not recorded." However, this past year SU's team ended with 11-8. According to Coach Hazlett the team worked hard to better itself, which showed in the final results. For the first time since 1965 SU had a winning season. Throughout the entire season, pitching was our strongest area.

Glen Downing accumulated the highest batting average (.353) while Bob Harris was the best pitcher, striking out 67 batters in 41 innings pitched.

Another pitcher, Bob Brescher, was voted best rookie of the year. Jed Lawrence was the most improved player. In general the season was a very gratifying one.

BASEBALL

Under Captain Whitney Gay and Coach Carr, SU's golf team ended its season 7-6. Susquehanna placed second in the Middle Atlantic Conference College Division tournament which it hosted.
